

MAKING GLOBAL GOALS LOCAL BUSINESS INDIA

Cor Marijs

Cor has led projects across various regions and topic areas, with an emphasis on projects within Vivid's growth and development practice area related to international climate finance. This includes working closely with international financial institutions and national governments on their institutional design for, and strategic approach to, channelling climate finance.

He has further contributed to projects on energy policy in countries including the UK, EU, China, Indonesia and South Africa; industrial competitiveness under carbon constraints; and the Clean Development Mechanism. His client portfolio includes a range of companies including in the oil and gas sector, government departments, and international organisations including the World Bank, UN, EBRD, the European Commission, and the UK Department of Energy and Climate Change.

Cor holds an MSc in Environmental Policy (with distinction) from Oxford University, and an MSc (cum laude) and BSc in Economics from Utrecht University.
