

MAKING GLOBAL GOALS LOCAL BUSINESS INDIA

Lauren Shields

Lauren is a member of BSR's women's empowerment practice, which aims to catalyze effective and ambitious business action on women's empowerment.

She is also a manager of HERproject – BSR's women's empowerment workplace program that brings together global brands, their suppliers, and local NGOs to support women in global supply chains through interventions on health, finance, and gender equality. As part of her role, Lauren leads HERproject's programs in East Africa and oversees learning and impact globally.

Previously, Lauren worked at the Social Science Research Council, where she conducted research on migration, development, and human rights. Lauren's consulting experience includes advising on best practices for monitoring and evaluation for the Center for Socio-Economic Development and developing recommendations on the post-2015 Millennium Development Goals agenda for UNDP.

Connect with Lauren at MGGLB– India!

Thursday, 27 April Putting Human Rights into Practice

With a focus on sustainability in developing countries, Lauren has led research projects on value chain development and women's empowerment in Ethiopia, Kenya, and Vietnam. Lauren holds an M.A. in Public Affairs from Sciences Po and a B.A. in International Relations from Tufts University.